

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

5 There is provided an illumination system. The illumination system includes a first light source and a second light source, each of which are for providing light having a wavelength ≤ 193 nm, and an optical element. The first light source illuminates a first area of the optical element and the second light source illuminates a second area of the optical element.